DRAWING MASTERCLASS
with LONDON FINE ART STUDIOS
Third floor, 18:00 - 20:00

Spend an evening exploring the work in The Griffin Catalyst Exhibition: Frank Auerbach: The Charcoal Heads with London Fine Art Studios.

Classically trained artists from London Fine Art Studios will guide you through the process of drawing an Auerbach inspired portrait, looking at how he created such characterful and moody work, and how you can too.

London Fine Art Studios is a classical art atelier based in Battersea that teaches the fundamentals of drawing and painting from life, inspired by the great tradition of the old masters.

This event is free and open to all. All materials will be supplied.

Third floor, 20:30 - 22:00

The Courtauld Institute of Art and The Royal Academy of Music invite you to a series of short performances of music and words to draw you closer The Courtauld Gallery's collection. Visit Manet's A Bar at the Folies Bergere to hear from the barmaid herself and experience a new lament on the uneasy scene of Gaugin's Nevermore.

This collaboration brings together postgraduate students from both institutions, combining their skills in art history, music performance and contemporary composition. It features music and literature contemporary to the period of The Courtauld's collection, as well as brand new creative responses. This session is led by Dr Charlotte de Mille, author and Associate Lecturer at The Courtauld, and Cevanne Horrocks-Hopayian, multimedia composer and Lecturer at The Royal Academy of Music.
